

Art in Action...

We have a full calendar of workshops and classes this year. We will be running 'one-day-sunday' workshops, evening creative gatherings, art exploration groups and kids school holiday classes. All taught by inspiring tutors, with creativity the goal. Classes are limited to 8 participants, so get in quick! If you're from out of town, accommodation can be arranged.

March 14 (sunday) 'Unblock the block' 1 day workshop.

Tutor: Ember Fairbairn-Ramsay (artist). Using various techniques to get yourself 'out of the way' and allow your innate creativity to move. It will be fun and experiential with an emphasis on ways to shift awareness when faced with creative blocks. Experimenting with different creative media to help you see your art making in a different light and to try new ways of experimenting with visual media. Utilises some good creative visualisation techniques and other mind tricks. Great to get your creative juices flowing!

Time: 10am - 4pm. Price: $95.

April 19-23 (mon-fri) 'Large Landscape painting' 1 week.

Tutor: Lesley Dickman (artist). Immersed in the Healesville landscape, students will produce a series of sketches that inform and support the execution of a large painted canvas. Lesley will take you through explorative techniques and interpretation using a contemporary approach. For established artists or beginners.

Time: 10am - 4pm. Price: $290.

May 9 (sunday) 'Encaustic' 1 day workshop.

Tutor: Ember Fairbairn-Ramsay (artist). Encaustic is one of the most ancient and enduring forms of painting. It has in recent years had a huge revival. It is a media that can be immediate and has a very sensuous quality. It can be used with oil based paint media, pigments and resins and is fantastic for mixed media and collage artists as well. You can use paper and textiles, you can even use it to sculpt with. It is a very freeing and versatile medium. Basically, encaustic is using hot wax as a paint or to be part of or hold together mixed media work. There are different forms of the medium which we will cover.

Time: 10am - 4pm. Price: $95.

June 13 (sunday) 'Oil painting' 1 day workshop.

Tutor: Ember Fairbairn-Ramsay (artist). Oil paint can be an intimidating medium but also very rewarding. We will cover all the principals of oil painting in a modern context, and experiment with washes and glazes, shape and texture and learn how NOT to make mud out of it. For established artists or beginners.

Time: 10am - 4pm. Price: $95.

School holidays - Hobby creatures. Make a hobby horse creature from recycled materials to ride home!

Claymation. Make your own claymation motion picture to take home on DVD! Dates and Costs TBA.
